Welcoming Address

There is no doubt that nowadays a great portion of global financial, scientific and engineering capitals and assets are related to structural engineering and its subsidiaries.

Iranian Society of Structural Engineering (ISSE) is the largest scientific non-governmental organization which holds structural engineering conference every year in Iran.

Considering the great enthusiasm of engineers and academics in civil and structural engineering disciplines, ISSE's Board of Directors has decided to hold the 3rd conference on Structural Engineering as an international event. In this context, ISSE announces the 3rd Iran International Conference on Structural Engineering with acronym of IRAST which has been originated from the words of Iran and structure.

Thus this would be our great honor to cordially invite all relevant engineers, researchers, experts, managers and industries to take part actively in this significant event. There would be several unique opportunities such as networking and making connections with leaders in this profession. In addition, participating to this conference will give you the opportunity to access to the latest achievements and technical know-how through participating in outstanding technical sessions.

When in Tehran, with extending your stay for an extra day, you can enjoy historical monuments, art museums, award-winning food, the Rocky Mountains and much more.

Topics

- Structural Analysis and Design (Steel, Composite, Masonry and Timber)
- Thin-Walled Structures
- Tall Buildings
- Structural Mechanics
- Structural Fire Engineering
- Numerical Methods and Algorithms
- Performance Based Design of Structures
- Dynamic Analysis of Structures
- Seismic Design of Structures
- Structural and Earthquake Engineering
- Behavior of Structures under Extreme Loading
- Repair, Rehabilitation and Retrofit of Structures
- Innovation in Design and Construction
- Construction Technology and Methods
- Smart Structures
- Structural Materials
- Structural Optimization
- Lightweight Structures
- Offshore Structures
- Oil and Gas Structures
- Project and Construction Management
- Structural and Urban Engineering
- Structural Engineering and Architecture
- Towers and Industrial Structures
- Structures for Non-conventional Energy (Wind and Solar)
- Fluid-Structure Interaction
- Dam Structures
- Bridges
- Active and Passive Control of Structures

Who Should Attend?

- Geotechnical Engineers
- Geo-professionals Engineers
- Structural Engineers
- Civil Engineers
- Bridge and Building Designers
- Structure Engineering Researchers
- Constructors & Contractors
- Educators/Professors/Academics
- Government & Municipal Officials
- Civil Students
- Personnel who Work on Design of Structures, Bridges and Tunnels & etc.
- Urban Development Engineers
- Consulting Engineers on Structural Areas
- Materials Suppliers and Steel Manufacturers
- Timber Engineers

Who Should Exhibit?

- Structural Consulting Engineers
- Structure Designers
- Architectures
- Managers of Construction Industries & Companies
- Constructors & contractors
- Developers & Owners of Construction Technologies & Innovations

- Civil Engineering Investors

SEE Awards

Selection of Structural Engineering Excellence:

Iranian and international activists in structural engineering industry consisting owners, contractors, designers, construction material manufacturers, engineers and academics will experience different outstanding achievements in various areas every year. Due to the necessity for introducing, developing and sharing these achievements & innovations, all enthusiastic engineers, companies and organizations are invited to submit the information and specifications of their structural projects to conference secretariat, to be judged by distinguished international academics and experts.

Letter of appreciation and conference trophy will be granted to different type of premier structures such as residential and luxury buildings, administrative and commercial buildings, bridge, tunnel, special and smart structures, multi-purpose towers, offshore structures, dams and other structures in different industries.

This selection aims to further develop this industry and raise awareness about structural engineers role as creative and innovative design professionals.

The tariffs for participation in selection of Structural Engineering Excellence in various sectors

No.	Sectors	Tariffs
1	Designing the residential structures based on Conference 32 topics	€ 2500
2	Designing various special structures such as: bridge, subway, tunnel and non-residential structures based on Conference 32 topics	€ 4500
3	Constructing and erecting various structures based on Conference 32 topics	€ 4500
